

The Bruce Billetin

Doing it for Bill since 2014

ISSUE #105: Monday 28th August – Monday 18th September

Stay strong, the holidays are in sight! Good luck to everyone submitting assignments or sitting mid-semester exams this week. Remember to have a break and chat to your SR if you're feeling overwhelmed. For now, it's goodbye for the Billetin until the start of Week 7 so we'll see you then.

There are 4 sheep
in this Billetin

WHAT'S ON IN CANBERRA

MOLLIE AND TANNIN'S SPRING DOG DAY

Murrumbateman Winery, 32.9km from CBD
2 Sep 2017

So this winery have decided to host a party for their two dogs, Mollie and Tannin. If you have a dog, you're invited to bring it along. Using deductive logic, this means there will be lots of dogs, and lots of wine, all in the same place. Are you there yet?

WALLABIES V ARGENTINA

GIO Stadium Canberra, 4.0km from CBD
16 Sep 2017

For the first time since 2010, the Wallabies are paying Canberra a visit for a test match. Tickets will disappear quickly for sure so get yours asap on this link: <http://bit.ly/2xnlmez>

IAC PRESENTS...

CHECK OUT OUR FACEBOOK EVENT FOR MORE DETAILS

7:30-10pm Wednesday @ Pop-Up

Despite having sport in its name, the Interhall Theatre Sports Competition is in fact another brilliant Arts event running this semester.

What are theatre sports? They're a form of improvisational theatre which uses the format of a competition for dramatic effect.

This is the perfect night of free entertainment to get you out of your study zone. Come along and laughs will be guaranteed.

To get there, enter through the bar and you will see people walking around in IAC shirts to direct you to the competition.

Come support yet more of our talented Brucies as they fight for the Arts Shield!

A tutorial at the prestigious Australian National University has become the focus of a social psychology experiment after displaying some of the more primitive human behaviours still in existence. The tutorial was first brought to the attention of scientists when Jacob Ellerman walked into the room and proceeded to sit in a chair that another student, Sarah Kong, had been sitting in since the very first tutorial. Sarah was then forced to sit in another seat, which caused the person who usually sat in it to find another seat, and so on. The chain reaction of chair displacement was so extreme that every person in the tutorial had to sit somewhere they hadn't before, thus causing extreme discomfort to all.

"It had just been a normal day for me up until that point", said Sarah in an interview with the Billetin at Chifley Meadows. "I had been chasing ANU students around campus telling them how passionate I am about student politics. By the way, I'm so proud to be a part of this amazing new ticket running for ANUSA which is a team full of incredible, caring, hardworking, amazing humans who all – ". Our reporter terminated the interview at this point so unfortunately no further information was obtained.

Jacob Ellerman, who has now been expelled from the course for being a weirdo, contacted the Billetin for a comment. "I don't really understand what I did wrong. Why do people sit in the same seat in tutorials every week? Is it to help the tutor remember their names? To be honest, it's like we're all cavemen and once we've marked our territory we have to protect it."

"Jacob is a disgrace", claimed another student from the tutorial, Bill Ginger. "He just doesn't get it. It's fair enough that some people struggle to remember where they sat, but if in doubt then all you have to do is crouch down and give each seat a sniff. If you can pick up someone else's scent then you'd better leave the territory as fast as possible and find another chair to use."

"I hate students", said the tutor of the course, Marlene Stern.

1. What is the literal translation of 'Mardi Gras'?
2. Staten Island is part of what city?
3. In a symphony orchestra, what instrument does the concertmaster play?
4. What year did Albert Einstein die?
5. What is the capital city of Estonia?
6. What does the abbreviation NASA stand for?

Trivia

7. Which movie studio has a roaring lion as its logo?
8. In what human organ would you find the alveoli?
9. What are catfish missing that many other fish have?
10. How old is Nick Kyrgios?

1. Fat Tuesday 2. New York 3. Violin 4. 1955 5. Tallinn 6. National Aeronautics and Space Administration 7. MGM 8. Lungs 9. Scales 10. 22