

BRUCE 'BILL' ITIN

FRIDAY 8 AUGUST 2014 – SATURDAY 13 AUGUST 2014

BOOK LAUNCH

House of Cards comes to Canberra

Authors of the best-selling book The Marmalade Files, Steve Lewis and Chris Uhlmann, are back and they're inviting you to dinner. Join Lewis and Uhlmann for a culinary and literary experience as they take you through the sticky details of their latest release The Mandarin Code. Fiction proved stranger than fact in their first book, the political satire The Marmalade Files. With their follow-up, The Mandarin Code, the duo return to the murky underworld of Australian politics to once again lift a veil on the lust and lies lurking in the corridors of power. Will life once again imitate art? Join us for a fun-filled evening celebrating these great Australian writers.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS:

Steve Lewis has been reporting politics in Canberra since 1992 and has survived the near collapse of the Fairfax media group, three prime ministers, Mark Latham and a career switch from The Financial Review to the News Ltd tabloids. Steve now writes freelance and works for Newgate Communications.

Chris Uhlmann is one of Australia's best-known and most respected political broadcasters. He was editor of the Canberra Weekly before joining the ABC in 1998. As political editor for ABC TV, and now host of ABC radio's flagship current affairs program AM, he has earned a reputation for his fearless pursuit of the nation's politicians.

5 tips on staying warm this winter!

As the mercury dropped to as low as -7C in Canberra this week, Arthy (the Treasurer) has some pretty cool tips on how to keep warm and stay healthy this winter

✓ Layer Up!

Although you might think that big winter jumpers are the way to go, wearing layers of thin clothes will keep you warmer as they trap body heat.

✓ Eat Well and Drink Warm

Try sticking to decaffeinated or herbal hot drinks and eating regular, hearty meals like stews and porridge

✓ Drink Milk and Eliminate your Sleep Debt

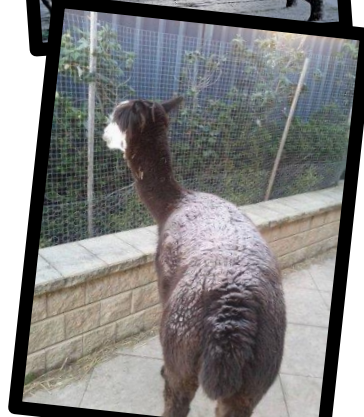

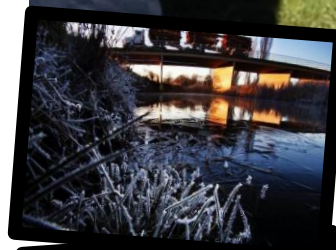

These are great ways to boost your immunity and protect you from the winter flu making its way around Bruce

✓ Get Moving

Working out in the cold may be the last thing you feel like doing this winter but it has the opposite effect too. As well as giving you a rush of endorphins which boosts mood, exercise will get the blood pumping around your body and, vitally, heat up your skin.

✓ Stay Social!

Although you might feel like hibernating in your room, social exclusion makes you feel colder than if you were socialising and spending time with people, which warms you up.

Womens: 7pm, Friday 8 August: Bruce v Ursies

Netball:

AFL:

Sunday 10 August (Time TBC): Bruce v Griffin

RESULTS:

Netball:

B&G (46) v Bruce (9)

Fenner (16) v Bruce (18)

In what was a really exciting match Bruce took the cake with a 16-18 win. Fenner pushed really hard with Vivien Wei leading from the front but it wasn't enough to get over a Bruce side lacking a few senior players.

AFL:

Bruce (24) v Johns (36)

After us here predicting a bit of a drubbing coming up in this game Bruce made us all look like fools. It seemed as though Johns with a few injuries, in particular Will Calvert-Jones, had taken Bruce too lightly. Bruce were down at the end of the 1st quarter but fought back to lead at half time and three quarter time. It looked like we had a big upset on our hands here but Johns, managed to put a stop to Fergus McFarlane's influence while Casey Welsh ran riot in the midfield for Johns. John's class eventually got the better of a fighting Bruce outfit 36-24
