WHAT'S ON IN CANBERRA

Absolutely nothing important, because Big Night Out is this Thursday and every other event in the world pales in comparison to it.

BREAKING NEWS

GLOBAL PEACE ACHIEVED AFTER UNITED NATIONS DEVELOPS SOLUTION TO OVERPOPULATION

Political tensions across the globe have dissipated over the past week as a new development has confirmed that Australia is ripe for the taking and will be the new home to displaced persons from all throughout the world.

"We knew that Aussies were pretty stupid" said UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres with a hint of a chuckle, "but we never realised they may one day reach the point where they're unable to look after themselves and we'd be able to take all their land away from them. This 'Toppo' crap has changed our perspective on that though. I'm surprised those degenerate donkeys can remember to breathe if that's the best they can come up with"

The "Toppo crap" that Guterres was referring to was a suggestion by a first year resident at Bruce Hall to change the name of the college's bar from the iconic 'Buttery' to the cringe inducing title of 'Toppo'. In the following days, people across the globe expressed their delight at the 8 million square kilometres which were clearly free to invade.

"You're kidding me mate" exclaimed an anonymous Rebel fighter in Syria, "I thought Burgmann's bar 'Le Chat Noir' was embarrassing, but this takes the cake. I always reckoned that Australian family paths must have crossed with their cattle at some point when the convicts first arrived, and this confirms my suspicions. I'm going to head down under asap and live like a king; why bother fighting over here anymore?"

In other news, tourists visiting Charles Darwin's burial site in Westminster Abbey, England, claim they heard a groan and a shuffling sound which appeared to indicate the father of evolution turning in his grave upon hearing the news of 'Toppo'. Always quick off the mark, renowned wildlife narrator Sir David Attenborough has attributed this posthumous movement to Darwin's realisation that 'Toppo' is irrefutable evidence of the fast decline of mankind into the apes that they originated from.

Holy guacamole is it Big Night Out again already? That's right, the best night of the year is upon us. At last count (over a week before this issue of the Billetin was published), Brucies had already bought 200 tickets and had the biggest crowd out of all the colleges. The number can only have gone up since then, so chances are you and the Duty SR will be the only ones left at home on Thursday night if you make the monumentally bad decision of not coming. Get your tickets at www.bignightout2017.getqpay.com for only $21 if you use the password 'Brucebno'. The first performance will be at 7pm and every band will have a half hour set until the event finishes at roughly 11pm. Bruce will be performing (order TBC):

All Night – Chance the Rapper
 This Girl – Kungs, Cookin' On 3 Burners
 This Love – Maroon 5
 Album artwork from the Bruce band's new album 'Dickson Road'

Australia Street – Sticky Fingers
 You Give Me Something – James Morrison
 A Love Divine - Saskwatch
