

THE BRUCE BILLITIN

Doing it for Bill since 2014

ISSUE 21: Monday 8th August- Monday 15th August

History is creeping up on us all this week, but that won't be the only thing, with murder week starting off with a bang this Monday. It's going to be a long and bloody week, but one in which you should all remember it is just a game. But in this game, you win, or you die (I've wanted to use that quote for so long....).

THE MANY WONDERS OF CANBERRA

SEX AND DRAGONS

11th & 12th August 7pm CSIRO Discovery Centre

With a name clearly inspired by the Bruce Ball, this is one event which is a must see for everyone fascinated by bearded dragons. While we at the Billitin acknowledge that is not a large number of you, we couldn't help but put this colourful event title into our calendar. So head to the discovery centre and watch this multimedia journey into the sexual reproduction of bearded dragons, all told through music and song.

FORAGE CANBERRA

12th August Odgers Lane from 5pm

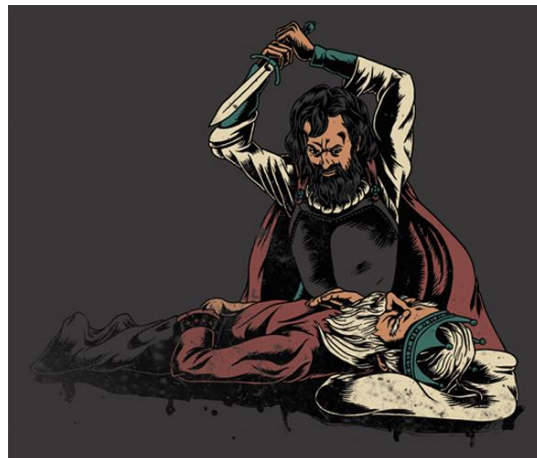

Join the forage @ Odgers this Friday and come by for a drink, something to eat and live entertainment in Odgers lane. This little laneway in the historic Melbourne building will be filled street food stalls and music, and is a great opportunity to discover some Canberra produced food and drinks. For more details head to

SCIENCE IN ACTION

13th August 10am-4pm at the Old Bus Depot, Kingston

This week is National Science week, and so come and experience real life Science in action at the Old Bus Depot in Kingston. In an interactive exhibition fit for all Brucies, you can hear from scientists who work to conserve iconic Australian plants and animals, learn about renewable energies and see model planes, rockets, drones and even daleks in action! More info is available at: <http://www.scienceweek.net.au/science-in-action/>

Don't forget, its murder week this week, so keep your eyes peeled, your friends close, and your enemies even closer....

AUSTRALIA-CHINA JOINT ECONOMIC REPORT LAUNCH

15th August 5:30pm JG Crawford Building

The ACJER is the first major independent joint study of the bilateral relationship that has proceeded with the blessing of both governments. The Canberra launch will feature speeches from senior government parliamentarians, and a high level panel discussion on Australia-China economic relations, with Australian and Chinese experts who advised the report

RAW CANBERRA PRESENTS REVEAL

12th August 6:30pm Belconnen Arts Centre

Head to the far reaches of Belconnen this Friday to see a showcase of some of Canberra's best up and coming young artists. With two Brucies in this show, it would be a great opportunity to head there and show your support for some members of our community. Tickets are available here:

RIDDLE ME THIS

Take away my first letter, and I still sound the same. Take away my last letter, I still sound the same. Even take away my letter in the middle, I will still sound the same. I am a five letter word. What am I?

HAVING A TASTEFUL TOGA

– With Kate Thomas

I thrive at Toga parties. They are to me what bread and butter is to everyone else. A basic tool in the repertoire of my life. However, some poor souls have told me they don't actually like the strange reek of too bare bodies, the occasional flashing of an unwanted body part, or even the slightly constrained dancing. To them I say you're simply not doing it right, so here are my top tips to have a good time:

1. 'I only drink coke'- You'll need that sugary hit to keep those feet going and to stop self-awareness from rearing its ugly head. Toga parties are all about endurance, and this is definitely the only thing I drink at them
2. Male nip slips are not the go – I'm sorry Andy Mac, but the male nipple is not something we all are dying to see when dancing in close proximity to each other in the confines of East.
3. Get colourful – A white toga is a bland toga. Whether it's blue, gold, or artfully patterned add a little flair to the dancefloor with a classy colourful number. An odd stain down the front doesn't count however.
4. Don't pre too hard (guest tip from Angus Vos) – In ancient Roman times, they had a vomit room to allow partygoers to never stop. We don't, and the corridor is not an ideal alternative. Try to avoid a mid-party shower by not pre-ing too hard before the party has even started.
