STUDENT PROTEST

Emergency rally against deregulation and cuts

ANU Vice Chancellor and Group of 8 chair Ian Young, and Minister for Education Christopher Pyne, have both publically come out in support of uncapping university fees in an effort to 'set universities free'.

These statements were followed up by a ludicrous budget draft by Joe Hockey that moves student contributions from 41% to 61%, overstepping even the draconian recommendations set by the Commission of Audit!

University fees are to be deregulated by 2016, though current students will not pay deregulated fees until 2020, possibly a measure against protesting. Universities will start charging as much as they can get, ANU will become even more of a bastion of elitism than it already is

..if that is possible to imagine ;) Along with these attacks on students, this government has attacked almost every marginalised group, most recently the young poor and the sick! This time last year, the Labor Party proposed to cut $2.3 billion from university funding, which goes to show how students do not have a voice representing them in parliament, and thus must make their own voice heard. Join us as we tell the politicians what we think of their new budget, alongside students all around the country who will be rallying on the 21st

SEMINAR

The hidden truth about Manus Island

In November 2013 Amnesty International visited the Manus Island Processing Centre. No photos were allowed to be taken but their findings are contained in the report: This is Breaking People: Human Rights Violations at Australia's Asylum Seeker Processing Centre on Manus Island, Papua New Guinea. Asylum seekers are being held in a prison-like regime, in extremely cramped compounds in stifling heat, while being denied sufficient water and medical help. Most have fled horrific situations and risked their lives in their efforts to reach Australia. This report has been converted into a presentation, to be delivered by Amnesty volunteers from ACT.

Venue: Theatre 5, Manning Clark Centre, Union Court, ANU

Date: Monday, 19 May 2014

Time: 6:30 PM - 8:00 PM

JOKE OF THE WEEK:

I saw a man with a head that was a giant orange while out eating at a fancy restaurant the other night. He was dining with the most gorgeous woman I had ever seen. I could not help but stop by his table and ask how he got that giant orange head.

"I found a magic lamp and upon rubbing it emerged a genie, telling me I had three wishes," he said. "My first wish was for unimaginable riches which is why I only eat out and only at fancy restaurants. My second was for the companionship of the most beautiful women the world has ever seen and here they sit. The third was...and maybe I didn't think this one through...I wished for a giant, orange head."
