

The Bruce Billetin

Doing it for Bill since 2014

ISSUE #97: Monday 29th May - Monday 5th June

Congratulations on making it through 13 weeks of content in 12 weeks (or good luck making it through 13 weeks of content in the next one week). Does anyone smell exam cookies yet? Brace yourselves for some big study days and get pumped for the joy of the holidays on the horizon.

There are 4 sheep in this Billetin

WHAT'S ON IN CANBERRA

THE VAMPIRES
The Street Theatre, 0.5km from CBD
2 Jun 2017

The Vampires are coming to Canberra! Performing their 5th album, 'The Vampires meet Lionel Loueke', this blend of soulful jazz, old-school reggae, and all out funk will be the perfect STUVAC entertainment. Get your tickets here:

https://au.patronbase.com/_StreetTheatre/Products/VAMP/Performances? ga=1.96274012.136007

PLUS500 BRUMBIES V REBELS
GIO Stadium, 4.0km from CBD
3 Jun 2017

Spoooooort. Come watch some. Which sport is it? Don't know tbh. There will be a ball involved and lots of people running into each other. It might be good. Hope you enjoy it. Tickets here:

<http://premier.ticketek.com.au/shows>Show.aspx?sh=KRU1517>

Let's face it, we're all going to procrastinate, so we may as well have fun while we do it. If that mindset sounds familiar to you, head over to the ANUSA Less Stressfival for random, enjoyable activities and plenty of free food. There is a facebook page with all the events listed but my top picks are:

- Monday 3-4pm: Toilet Roll Outfit Competition (create the best outfit out of toilet paper to win a box of toilet paper... lol)
- Wednesday 11am-1pm: Bubble Soccer at ANU Sport
- Friday: Complimen-tree at Union Court (which involves writing compliments to strangers on a chalk board tree)

Also, ANUSA will be giving out fruit at the libraries and ANUSA office, along with Stress Less packs that include colouring in sheets, bubble wrap, play-doh, tea, stress balls, and plenty of other goodies.

An ANU student and graduate of a prestigious all-boys high school in Sydney has been presented with an award by Prime Minister Malcolm Turnbull to celebrate his bravery and self-restraint in light of his actions last Thursday. Samuel Cornelius Waltbridge-Smith was attending the Union Court Farewell party when a representative from ANUSA handed him a can of spray paint and granted him permission to graffiti the footpath in the immediate vicinity. What happened next would shock bystanders and draw international attention over the following days.

Despite all expectations, Samuel decided not to draw a membrum virile.

That's right. Even after six years festering in the crass humour developed by the easily amused minds of all-boys high schools, Samuel resisted the golden opportunity to take the can of spray paint and draw a big, fat membrum virile for all of ANU to see. This incredible suppression of his basic animal instincts has surprised all those who have heard about it, especially his mother. The Billetin was lucky enough to interview Samuel about this miracle the day after it occurred.

"Yeah nah to be honest I'm a bit sick of drawing membrum viriles" Samuel stated. "In high school I used to think it was pretty funny to sleep over at a mates place and draw a huge membrum virile on his forehead while he was asleep, but its losing its appeal these days. I guess I just got too good at it for it to be fun anymore. Veins, pubes, and a hefty scrotum; it's too easy mate."

Samuel's friends former friends from high school have heavily criticised his comments and claim that he has "dogged the boys" with the public exercise of his newfound maturity. Roger Terence McSweeney-Cork, clear alpha male of the pack, claimed "Samuel reckons that since he goes to university now he is all grown up and doesn't find crude jokes funny anymore. What a membrum virile head". 'The Boys' have since removed Samuel from their Facebook group chat and do not have any intention of adding him back.

1. What colour is cerulean?
2. What was the first Lifesaver flavour?
3. Who provides James Bond with his gadgets?
4. A baby guinea pig is called what?
5. What was the name of Eminem's first album?
6. What country is known as the "land of the lions"?
7. What is emetophobia the fear of?

Trivia

8. What was the first animal to be sent into orbit? (Extra points for its name)
9. What is the capital of Lebanon?
10. What is the capital of Botswana?

